

360° COLLABORATION

Overview

A successful workforce needs to be a lot of things — creative, driven, and productive. But there is one vital skill that far too many employers (and employees) forget: collaboration.

People who are good collaborators are the glue that makes work, work! When your team collaborates effectively, it not only improves processes and outcomes, but also the work experience itself — for everyone involved.

Learning to collaborate is key if you want your business to be successful. But how do you foster a collaborative atmosphere? Let's talk about the skills your team needs and how to develop them.

This is a 2 full days active learning program.

Course Objective

- Understand and learn that each person has unique personality traits and styles.
- Accept the differences, similarities, likes and dislikes to be able to move beyond.
- Knowing how each person thinks and presents themselves, we can next reach out to build connections.
- Connections can be fostered by knowing each person's talents, experiences, stories and knowledge. They are precious to us and we should value and appreciate them.
- Building quality relationships together, we are able to take on challenges with increased focus, frequency and fortitude.
- Confidence, respect and trust in each other will move us outside our comfort zones and reach our goals.
- 360 collaboration is about going beyond, reaching out, working, and discussing with anyone and everyone to reach agreed targets.

Targeted Group

- Leaders, Managers, Supervisors, Team Leaders, Project Teams, Change & Transformation Manager
