CEO MESSAGE

"Elite Indigo is more than just a company; it's a community of learners and doers. We're your partners in transformation. Join us on this exciting journey as we empower individuals, organizations, and ultimately, the entire workforce."

Koay Kheng Huat

FOUNDER & CEO

My journey with technology has been exhilarating. For over two decades, I've been fortunate enough to lead massive global programs in Smart Manufacturing and Industry 4.0 for some of the biggest names in the industry. After, being appointed as a 4IR Technology Mentor by the Malaysia Productivity Corporation (MPC) felt like a natural extension of that passion – helping SMEs and LLCs navigate the exciting world of technological transformation.

But somewhere along the way, something else sparked within me. Witnessing the transformative power of knowledge became a personal mission. I saw the hunger for growth, the desire to be better, and that's what inspired the inception of Elite Indigo.

Here at Elite Indigo, we're all about unlocking potential. We offer a diverse range of HRDF-certified workshops that go beyond just technical skills. Sure, those are important, but we also believe in equipping individuals with the life skills needed to truly thrive. Personal growth hand-in-hand with professional development – that's the Elite Indigo formula.

As a hands-on leader, I find immense satisfaction in sharing my experience and expertise. Elite Indigo isn't just a training provider; it's a platform to connect with individuals who share that same drive for advancement. We offer coaching and mentorship opportunities to help individuals unlock their full potential and propel their careers forward. And with a 95% positive feedback rate, we know we're on the right track.
